Luc Severi, Manager Energy Access, United Nations Foundation

Luc Severi is a Manager on UN Foundation's Energy Access activities, focusing primarily on the energy access gap in the health sector. Luc's academic background is both commercial and social, holding a Master's in Commercial Engineering from KULeuven and an MSc Development Management from the London School of Economics. Prior to starting his current work with UNF, Luc worked in Mozambique, Senegal, and Liberia, for several international NGOs and social enterprises, including SolarNow and Save the Children International. Throughout his career, Luc has been an active participant in the green & circular economy, working primarily with renewable energy solutions for off-grid and rural households, schools, and health centres.

Kathleen Callaghy, Program Associate, Humanitarian, Global Alliance for Clean Cookstoves (the Alliance)

Since 2015, Kathleen has provided technical advice, communications support, and advocacy strategies to implement the Alliance's goal of reaching the world's most vulnerable populations with clean and/or efficient cooking solutions. As Program Associate, she coordinates the Alliance's co-leadership of the Safe Access to Fuel and Energy (SAFE) Humanitarian Working Group, a consortium of agencies working to facilitate a more coordinated, predictable, timely, and effective response to the fuel and energy needs of crisis-affected populations. Prior to working with the Alliance, Kathleen served as Program and Operations Coordinator for CLASP, an international energy efficiency non-profit, where she coordinated the activities of CLASP's country offices in India, China, the US, and EU. Kathleen has a Masters degree in Comparative Ethnic Conflict from Queen's University Belfast, Northern Ireland, and a BA in Government and Legal Studies from Bowdoin College.

Paul McCallion, Energy Advisor, UNHCR Geneva

Paul McCallion is an Energy Officer with UNHCR based in Geneva within the Division of Progamme Support and Management (DPSM) and provides technical support to a range of projects from large-scale renewable interventions to the nuts and bolts analysis of small-scale local technologies. Paul has experience covering international best practices and indigenous knowledge on renewable energy planning and technology deployment, accumulated from implementing projects across 36 countries ranging across private, development and humanitarian sectors.

Mason Huffine, Africa Business and Sales Manager, LittleSun

Mason Huffine is a longtime advocate for energy access in the global south. Starting in 2008 as the Country Director for SolarAid/ Sunny Money TZ developing sustainable community solar projects including over 80 kW on 120 large scale distributed PV projects for health centers and schools. At the social business Sunny Money he created new markets for pico solar products and pioneered the Schools Campaign that has now sold over 1.8 million solar lamps to students in Africa. As Project Director for ICS for TZ 21st Program, he supported the deployment of over 1000 systems totaling 240 kW. At Solar Nexus International he consulted to different private companies, NGO's, and local solar business as a project developer on rural electrification projects. At LittleSun GmbH as Africa Business & Sales Director Mason has worked to expand business in Africa and developed a strong humanitarian program within the company.

Olivier Jacquet, Global Account Manager – Refugees, Emergency & War, Sustainable Development/Global Strategy, Schneider Electric

Olivier Jacquet studied electrical engineering at University College, London UK, and at the French High School Centrale-Supélec. After he graduated his MSc, he also studied his MBA at College des Ingénieurs in Paris, France. Since 1998, Olivier hold various positions at Schneider Electric in solution sales, manufacturing, and entered general management roles since 2004, as Factory Manager in Western France, then as Zone Manager in Vietnam Philippines and Cambodia, and lately Senior Vice President for international projects in EMEA region.
